

Beckoning for Closeness Exhibition

Beckoning for Closeness is an exhibition at DADAA Fremantle Gallery.

Beckoning for Closeness means 'come a little closer.'

The exhibition is by artists Tony Sarre, Mayma Awaida, with help from Lincoln MacKinnon and Tom Allum.

To experience visual art and exhibitions most people use their eyes to look.

But when someone is blind they need to use their other senses like touch and hearing.

This exhibition uses different types of sound and light to encourage you to use your other senses.

The gallery is open from Tuesdays to Saturdays from 10am until 4pm
